

Diverse Perspectives on Fatherhood

International Lectures on Insights to the Field of Fatherhood Research

"Modern Fatherhood" is a broad debated topic in our societies: Many fathers are no longer willing to fit into the classic "male breadwinner model" of fatherhood. The new and diverse forms of fatherhood that have developed are the subject not only of debate in the media, but also of social science research. We introduce two insights into current research on fatherhood with different perspectives. The event will be moderated by Kim Bräuer, PhD., head of the research projekt "You don't need to be Superheroes - insights into the diverse life situations of fathers" at the TU Braunschweig.

Prof. Dr. Firouz Gaini, University of the Faroe Islands

"Faroese Teenagers' Narratives on Fatherhood, Masculinity, and Family Life"

image source: <https://www.setur.fo/en/the-university/staff/firouz-gaini/>

Aaron Korn M.A., Friedrich-Schiller-Universität Jena

"A critical look at the transformation potential of Stay-at-Home Dads: Between privileging and precarisation"

image source: <https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Aaron-Korn>

The event will take place online. You will receive the invitation link via mail after registering.

Registration: Everyone who is interested can register for this event by emailing Flora Brzosa (f.brzosa(at)tu-braunschweig.de) by May 23

i Arbeit und
S Organisation
O Institut für Soziologie